Overview

Organised by The HKFYG Leadership Institute and funded by The Hong Kong Jockey Club Charities Trust, the programme aims to nurture cohorts of positive and inspirational young leaders with global perspective, spirit of innovation, and a sense of social responsibility. The HKFYG Jockey Club School of Global Leadership collaborates with Peace Boat, introduces a first-ever Global Seminar conducted on a cruise ship with the theme of “Leadership for Inclusive Futures in Asia” to connect 30 top tri-sector gurus and foster cross-field collaboration, aiming at achieving a sustainable and inclusive future in Asia.

With a regional focus on the whole of Asia, this programme is a natural next step after the successful Global Seminar with the theme of Leadership for Inclusive Futures in Hong Kong in 2017. As Mainland China continues to rapidly develop its megacity strategy, with the Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area one of its highest-profile examples, so too do unique challenges facing urban centers and metropolitan areas increase and magnify. These challenges include overpopulation, air and water pollution and economic disparity, but equally they provide strategic opportunities in urban design, environmental sustainability, public policy and many more. The rise of Asia as a whole means that these challenges are shared among developed and developing countries both, especially major cities within the region.

Launching in April 2019, this highly-selective programme will convene Hong Kong’s rising talents across the public, private and civil society sectors and equip them with a better understanding of regional challenges framed under five pillars – Environment, Economy, Poverty, Equality and Peace – and an actionable, collaborative framework to ideate, prototype and implement project ideas to address these challenges. Together with young social impact leaders from the region and around the world, expert facilitators will lead an inspiring programme with on-the-ground exposure in Japan and extensive networking, partnership building and education opportunities on Peace Boat and in Hong Kong.

Underpinning by the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), following a structured design thinking methodology and with representation from different sectors, the programme will provide an important platform on which young Hong Kong leaders can innovate and build a more inclusive future with regional exposure and scalable potential.

Participant Profile

This programme aims to build collaborative networks for human capital and leadership development in Hong Kong. The programme is designed to equip a select group of Hong Kong's rising talents between the age of 25-40 with knowledge and skills to solve pressing issues facing local communities, businesses, and government agencies. The participants will be drawn from the public, private, and civil society sectors, and from different socio-economic contexts to encourage multi-faceted discussion and cross-sector network building. They will interact with cohorts which were awarded Forbes 30 under 30, Queen's Young Leaders Award etc. in this seven-day programme.

Session Format

The programme will be facilitated through the “Design for Impact” approach, which is a design thinking methodology inspired by the United Nations Global Goals Jam curriculum. The programme consists of four parts: A pre-seminar online webinar prior to the voyage, a fieldwork in Osaka, Japan, followed by an intensive five-day leadership programme on Peace Boat and a public event in Hong Kong.

The leadership programme is designed to be highly interactive and participatory and includes larger and smaller working group discussions, facilitated skill-building workshops and engagement with the 1,000 passengers on board. The programme will also have presentations and panel discussions featuring experts on economic, social, and environmental issues; civic engagement; and global communication and negotiation.

Distinguished guest speakers and professional facilitators will share insights from their changemaking experience on the scope of SDGs and guide the participants to work together on designing pilot civic engagement projects to tackle concrete shared challenges.
